

OUR ISLAND HOME.

Our Kingdom of the Sunset Isles, By Heaven's favor blest—
The land where peaceful Plenty smiles, The garden of the West,
From every fruitful hill and slope,
The every mountain dome, A nation's pride, a people's hope,
And bless our island home!

Rich rugged land of hill and dale,
The land was first untamed, When Labor's hand had raised the veil That hid thee from the world, In thought and deed, unwearied still,
Thy children labor on;
Kneel glorious will the day fulfil The promise of the dawn.

May willing hands in every need,
Be raised for thee and thee,
And guard thee from foreign greed, Our Kingdom be the sea.

We love thee well, thou garden fair,
And the ocean's foam,
Be thou thy children's constant prayer,
And bless our island home!

JO. BARRETT.
Honolulu, April, 1889.

AN OLD SONG RESUNG.

Now Mary had, that is, she owned,
A lamb of unknown gender; Whoever she might, by day or night That sweet world attend her.

When as she went to school one day The lamb went tagging after,
Which once did throw every kid Into a fit of laughter.

Kicking the queerest out of doors,
The teacher spanked the frisker;
But the lambkin crept in the cold outside,
And the wind blew through its whiskers.

Then all the children, children asked, What makes the lamb cry so, My dear," said he, "it looks to me Like a case of the blues."

Now, the story you shall hear That there is a creature That is above the power of love,
And is a teacher.

— F. J. FIELD.

SUI YEE.

I must not let my pet
My house appear;
My cheeks must yet be wet
With many tears.

I must not let my task Unfinished remain;
I must not let my ask
To meet its pain.

Farwell, my dear dream
Of dear repose
Beside the crystal stream, That washes down.

Welcome, a mingled life Of gain and loss,
Welcome, a noble stride—
A blessed cross.

VARIETY.

Mrs. East—"Here's to the pump!" Some cucumbers are fresh, and some are not.

If the weather continues we shall be obliged to let the toboggan slide.

ginia.

"Woman feels where men think," says a writer. Yes, that's why man is a fool.

A Rochester man got drunk on beer. That proves that beer will intoxicate.

Sam: "John, what is a coastwise steamer?" He: "One that knows how to keep off the rocks, darling."

Dr. Student: "Don't you ever swim under the bed. I'd like to know?" Sam: "Doody"; "I always do. I prefer it to a dustpan."

Peter Jones of Buffalo, wishing to name his infant son after himself and changing the affix "Jr." had the poor child christened "Repeater."

Passenger on a street-car, shouted: "Madam, do you feel a tremor on?" Madam (laughingly):
"No, sir; I'm trying to find my pocket."

The average size of an American family, says the Terre Haute Express, "according to statistics, is 4.23. The fraction probably stands for the old man."

It is reported from Germany that the Emperor will pay a visit to England in the course of next summer.
His guard, it is said, is being prepared for the purpose.

The Empress of Austria sits alternately on either side of her horse, and her saddle pads accordingly.
The custom is making slow progress among the ladies of England.

A scientist declares that the hair on the back of a man's head, when cut, will make your hair curl, if you know just what she means.

Lady: "Your clothes are very ragged. Can't I do some sewing for you?" Tramp: "Yes, madam; you may see an overcoat on this button, if you please. It seems to feel the need of society."

The railroad have decided that dead bodies transported over the roads must be paid for at the rate of one full passenger fare. It almost seems to them they ought to be carried "dead-end."

Funny man (of Chicago daily):
"A sudden feeling of nausea has come over me. It must be something I've eaten." Horse Editor (sympathetically): "Possibly it's something you have written."

The "giants to be sold by a lady with four curved legs" has been outdone. We read to-day of an order given for "one lady's prime saddle for a tall, slim lady, all over hog skin and perfectly plain."

By the death of James C. Flood, the bonanza millionaire, his daughter, Miss Jeanie, becomes probably the richest woman in the world. She is certainly the richest woman in the United States, being the heir of all his immense wealth. She is twenty-five years old and has refused several offers of marriage.

An aptitude of criticism is shown among people who bite their nails.
These people are cynical and severe, uncharitable and bitter; they write a small, cramped, illegible hand.

As soon as the German Crown Prince was "given up" by the doctors he began to grow better. This shows that the doctors can cure a man if they only go about it in the right way.

"Nothing is more pernicious than the habit of contracting debts," remarked a father to his spendthrift son. "Don't you think expanding them is a little worse?" asked the latter.

"Minister: 'So you go to school, do you, Bobby?'" Bobby: "Yes, sir." Minister: "Let me hear you spell kitten." Bobby: "I'm getting too big a boy to spell kitten. Try me on cat."

The Chinese have finger-nails so long that they could write with them.
The tenacity of the Chinese nail, which does not easily break, would indicate that they have more time in their bones than we have.

Physician (to patient): "Your case is a serious one, sir, and I think a consultation had better be held." Patient (too sick to care for anything): "Very well, doctor, have as many accomplices as you like."

A chair made of horns of Texas cattle and valued at $1,500 has been received by President Harrison from a San Antonio banker. The horns are riveted with gold, and a number of gold plates are used in the construction.

According to an old superstition of the medieval church, whenever a cock crows a lie is being told. The reason that cocks crow so persistently in the early morning hours is because the morning papers are being set up.

The onyx of the finger-nails is carefully cultivated and polished by the circles of New Orleans to show that they have no black blood in their veins. No matter how fair the complexion, the valuable sign of pure blood is wanting to the octoroon if Masked robbers entered the office of the Canadian Pacific and Downington Express Company at Indian Head at midnight, placed a revolver at the head of W. H. Ross, the tele-grapher in charge, and demanded the money in his keeping. Ross suddenly blew out the light and opened fire. The robbers made off without getting any booty.

The feature of Edison's exhibit at the Paris Exposition will be an enormous model of an incandescent lamp, forty feet high and made entirely of small incandescent lights, of which it will be necessary, it is said, to use 20,000. The French and American flags will be worked out in incandescent lamps on either side of the big lamp. So says the New York Star.

Dr. W. E. Murray, a veterinary surgeon of St. Louis and formerly a dentist, last Saturday filled three de-cayed teeth of a valuable horse. It is the third case of equine tooth-filling on record. The animal had suffered terribly from toothache, and was unable at times to eat or drink.
The horse bore the pain without winching, and did not have to be tied or given gas. (Ex.)

The committee of the United Kingdom Band of Hope Union are making a systematic effort to promote temperance instruction in the schools of Great Britain. They propose to employ eight lecturers specially to visit the schools, and address the scholars and teachers, and to influence the school authorities in favor of the work. The best temperance teaching is that of the cradle and home, and next to that comes the teaching of the school.

Problems.

A correspondent sends the following propositions, which will perhaps puzzle those who have never before seen them:

A man caught a fish, the tail of which weighed 9 lbs, its head weighed as much as the tail and half the body together. How much did the fish weigh?

A and B commenced a business with equal capitals. The first year A gained $400, B lost $400. The second year A lost 1/2 of what he owned by this time, B gained $400 less than twice the amount of what A lost. B had now twice as much money as A. What were their original capitals?

Telescope Glasses.

Professor Charles S. Hastings of Yale has discovered a new combination of glasses for the telescope object glass which eliminates secondary chromatic aberration. It is expected to revolutionize astronomy. The professor declines to give the details of his discovery now, but says it is a definitive solution of the problem which occupied the minds of scientists for a century.

Who are You?

Put down in figures the year in which you were born; to this add 4; then add your age at your next birthday, provided it comes before January 1, otherwise, your age at last birthday; multiply result by 1,000; from this deduct 677,423, substitute as A for 1, B for 2, C for 3, D for 4, &c. The result will give the name by which you are popularly known.
